

7 Web Services Design

7.1 Purpose

The Web Services Design section includes the high level package class diagram for the UI SIDES. Also included are the domain and schema class diagrams.

7.2 Class Diagrams

Three class diagrams have been provided below. The first is a package level diagram that describes the individual packages. The second is the domain level class diagram that describes the domain layer classes. The third is a schema level class diagram that was auto generated by Hibernate against an final data schema.
